DEMS CAMPAIGN FOR NOMINATION OF M'SWEENEY

County Committee Supports Wooster Man Against Herbert Bigelow

OTHERS ARE INDORSED

Executive, Central Groups Gather At Chairman's Summons

The Pickaway County Democratic organization Monday evening leaped into the midst of the state and county primary election race when central and executive committees voted indorsement of several candidates, including John W. McSweeney of Wooster, O., who is running for the nomination for the United States Senate.

McSweeney is the only candidate who is opposed at the primary to win indorsement. He is running against Herbert Bigelow, Cincinnati, whose amendments to the Ohio constitution were soundly beaten at the polls last fall.

"Ohio has had just about enough trouble with Mr. Bigelow," John F. Mader, chairman of the executive committee, declared, "so we are urging the nomination and are working for the election of Mr. McSweeney to the senate." The post held now by A. Vic Donahy is at stake, Republicans seeking the office including Dudley White of Norwalk, Mayor Harold Burton of Cleveland and C. E. Wharton of Kenton.

Mr. Mader called the executive and central committees together to "talk over numerous things," according to the chairman. He said that the reorganization of central and executive committees was discussed. No candidates were invited to the meeting, he said, the members closing the meeting to committeemen only.

Indorsements were voted for Clarence Knisley, who is seeking nomination for state treasurer; Mrs. Hulise Hays for state central committee, Harry Welch for representative to the general assembly, George E. Gerhardt for prosecutor, and Dr. E. L. Montgomery for coroner.

A resolution of respect was drawn in the death of Lewis E. Miller, long an active ward committeeman who died Monday. Because his death is so close to the primary, the vacancy left in the First Ward will not be filled by appointment, Mr. Mader said.

He reported a good attendance with a feeling of harmony prevailing. The meeting was held in the courthouse.

Ferguson Claims Breakdown Inevitable; Governor Cites Leves

COLUMBUS, April 30—Governor Bricker reiterated today that Ohio's metropolitan and rural areas are not facing relief crises in the near future, despite assertions to the contrary by State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson.

Ferguson averred that 80 percent of the state's subdivisions face a breakdown in relief before August because they were piling up deficits without knowing where they would obtain funds to meet obligations for care of needy.

"There is no change in the relief situation throughout the state," Bricker said when informed of Ferguson's allegations. "There is no danger of an immediate crisis anywhere."

He added, however, that some cities might be thrown into a critical state if pending levies for relief failed to pass.

Ferguson also contended that the state had no authority to allocate funds to cities which failed to

Miss Mary Tomb, a student at Bellefonte High School, near State College, told state police engaged in the Taylor search that she escaped from two men who flung a sheet over her and dragged her into their car as she stepped onto the porch of her uncle's home at Milesburg, three miles from Bellefonte.

She eluded her captors about a mile from her home when they stopped their car, she said, and escaped to the home of Donald Newman, from where she telephoned the police.

Berlin Denies London Claim That Planes Attacked Hospital Ships

BERLIN, April 30—The German high command tonight officially announced the capture of Dombaas, key-point in central Norway formerly held by British troops as the spearhead of their attempt to break the Reich's hold on Norway.

LONDON, April 30 — A Reuters (British) dispatch from Stockholm today claimed that German troops had been forced to withdraw from their positions in Narvik and were now entrenched along the shores of Narvik fjord. The British naval bombardment had silenced the heavier Nazi guns, forcing the Germans to depend on machine guns to prevent landing of Allied troops, the dispatch stated.

Few Contests For G. O. P.
Nominations Result In
Quiet Campaigns

COLUMBUS, April 30—Various reasons were offered today by political leaders for the apparent lack of interest among voters and candidates in the May 14th pre-primary campaign, just two weeks away.

A consensus of opinion disclosed the obviously apathetic conditions in Ohio political circles were due principally to the following:

1.—Split in the Democratic ranks because of the candidacy of former Gov. Martin L. Davey.

2.—Uncertainty over the outcome of the Democratic and Republican national conventions and President Roosevelt's prolonged silence on the third-term issue.

3.—Worry over the present European conflict and its outcome. (Candidates especially contend it is hopeless to campaign and hope to win votes through statements in newspapers as long as war news monopolizes the front pages.)

4.—Fear (mostly among Democrats) that if they campaign openly for certain candidates, they may find themselves on a "bandwagon" that is not in the political parade after the primary.

Other Reasons

Those are the main reasons. There are a few minor ones hardly worth mentioning. And a few candidates feel there is widespread interest, "especially in my campaign."

Lack of interest in most contests for Republican nominations to state posts obviously is due to the fact there are few contests. Incumbent Republican officials who are unopposed for renomination are Governor Bricker, Lieut. Gov. Paul Herbert, State Treasurer Don H. Ebricht, Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert, Former Attorney General Gilbert Bettman, who is seeking the G.O.P. nomination for the supreme court term beginning January 2, also has no opponent.

There are heated contests for every Democratic nomination; but even the candidates admit they are not "whipping up" interest among voters.

John Ferguson, an examiner in the office of his brother, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, had this to say about the campaign:

"We've had good crowds at most of our meetings, but I'll admit there is lack of interest among voters. I think people are worrying about the European war. As far as farmers are concerned, they are too busy plowing and planting. The recent rains set them back several weeks, and crops come before politics."

Another one of Ferguson's aides intimated that county chairmen were not sponsoring political meetings because they wanted to keep the total vote small "so they can control it."

"War news is crowding politics off the front pages of every newspaper," Ebricht declared.

Interest in F. D.

"There's plenty of interest among Democrats in a third term for President Roosevelt," George D. Nye, candidate for the Democratic nomination for attorney general averred. "Why the Roosevelt is rampant. All he has to do is make one speech and he'll be reelected."

"I don't want to appear too confident, but I think my write-in campaign is progressing satisfactorily," Secretary of State George Neffner said.

(Neffner, supported by the G.O.P. state organization, is seeking nomination for a full term. He was appointed recently to succeed the late Earl Griffith, who died in office. He is opposed by Edward J. Hummel, of Cincinnati, whose name will appear on the primary ballot.)

However, another spokesman in Neffner's office said the lack of interest among Democrats is due to the factional fights throughout the state. He added that a prominent Democrat, whose name he declined to divulge, recently told him that "We have no Democratic party in Ohio; it's an awful mess."

"The Democrats are keeping quiet because they are afraid they'll get on the wrong bandwagon," a widely known Democratic woman party leader said.

The Democratic rift, it was said, dates back to the bitter battle in 1938 when National Committeeman Charles Sawyer defeated Davey for the party's nomination.

Split Widens

This split, it was said, was widened when Davey announced he would run again. It was then that the "old-line" Democrats succeeded in getting former Gov. George White to enter the contest, despite the fact there already were six in the race.

Others in the Democratic gubernatorial campaign are James F. Flynn, Sandusky attorney; former Secretary of State William J. Kennedy, former Congressman-at-Large Harold G. Mosier, former Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy, and Frank Dye, Columbus attorney.

White has not been campaigning strenuously, although party workers (reported to belong to the Sawyer faction) are "stumping" the state in behalf of White.

Davey, a veteran campaigner, is making speeches daily, but he did not begin in earnest until last Friday.

Kennedy has been more diligent in his search for votes than most of the others.

Duffy recently made his "first and only" campaign speech in Akron.

White, Burton Busy

Most spirited contest is between Congressman Dudley A. White, of Norwalk, and Mayor Harold H. Burton, of Cleveland, for the G.O.P. nomination for U. S. senator. C. E. Wharton, of Kenton, also is in the race.

A minor split in the Republican ranks was caused by the recent endorsement of White by G.O.P. State Chairman Ed D. Schorr, and the latter's criticism of Burton for "exaggerating" the Cleveland relief situation last autumn.

As a result, Republican leaders in various sections of the state are seeking support for Burton.

Generally, however, the Ohio political situation might be described perfectly by the frequent French government communiques describing action on the Western Front:

"On the whole, everything was quiet."

LITTLE GIRL HIT BY AUTOMOBILE AT STOUTSVILLE

Lillian Agnes Hettinger, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seibert Hettinger of near Stoutsville, is in Lancaster Hospital suffering from painful injuries received Sunday when she was hit by the automobile of John Ivor Karr, 704 Pierce Avenue, Lancaster.

The accident happened in front of the Hettinger home, two miles east of Stoutsville.

The child has numerous cuts and bruises and a possible skull fracture.

Deputy Sheriff Dudley Crider, investigating the accident, reported the girl was attempting to cross the road in front of her home, located on the Stoutsville-Oakland highway and apparently walked into the side of Karr's machine. Karr stopped immediately and carried the girl into her home.

Lillian's sister witnessed the accident, Deputy Crider said, and had planned to cross the road, too. Karr was traveling west in the road.

Her attending physician described Lillian's condition as "fair" Tuesday.

PETTENGILL

"The Gentleman from Indiana"

A NEW DEATH SENTENCE?

We recall the impulsive cancellation of air mail contracts in February, 1934. No harm was meant but a dozen pilots died.

Mr. Roosevelt has just issued an equally ill-considered order destroying the independence of the Civil Aeronautics Authority and turning it over to the tender mercies of Harry Hopkins' Department of Commerce. Capitol Hill is up in arms about it and the White House columnists, Pearson and Allen, ventured to save the President by suggesting he did not know what he was signing. But as I got the story here in Washington, the President refuses the alibi and is determined to jam the merger through.

Once before aviation was in the Commerce Department. "During the period that it regulated the country's air transportation network 473 persons lost their lives in air crashes," Commerce Department. "During the period that it regulated the country's air transportation network 473 persons lost their lives in air crashes," Commerce Department.

PETTENGILL crashes of whom 146 were air line pilots. The ranks of the air line pilots were being thinned at the startling rate of one every 28 days. Their passengers were meeting death averaging one every 15 days. The crash-scared public was afraid to ride which resulted in inestimably large losses of revenue to the industry and progress was stymied.

I have here quoted what the air line pilots of the nation have said in protest against the President's order. In May 1935 Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico lost his life in an air line crash. In sheer desperation the pilots started the fight to free themselves and their passengers from the bureaucrats who were killing them and crushing the industry.

The Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 was the result. I was on the House Committee that wrote it. It is as nearly a model regulatory act as has ever been written. It made the Authority as nearly independent from political pressure as is humanly possible. It placed the executive management of the air ports, fields and beacons under an independent administrator. Lastly, it created an independent Air Safety Board whose business it is to find what caused a crash, if one occurs. The Board could even find that a regulation of the Authority itself was at fault. Previously the Department of Commerce sat in judgment on its own rules and its own conduct. And you know how many times they found themselves guilty! Now in this Executive order the Air Safety Board is to be abolished! And the administration of aviation is to be made responsible (?) to Mr. Harry Hopkins.

Are we to go back to the old system of "white wash" and "sit tight" which sent 146 air line pilots and 327 passengers to their graves? Consider the record under the 1938 act. Nothing like it has ever taken place in the history of transportation. Not a single air passenger has met death in over a year. A world air safety record. The pilots who are now begging Congress to stop Mr. Roosevelt's unwise move flew 87,325, 145 miles, carrying 2,028,817 passengers without a fatality in the past 12 months. American commercial airplanes have flown the equivalent of 3,600 times around the world at the equator and put every passenger safe on the ground!

Here is a government commission doing a marvellous job, a model for all other agencies, and yet it is condemned to go back to the same kind of inefficiency that wrote a black record in the air and in ships at sea without adequate life boats or life belts.

Not only has air travel been made safe but the companies, as a result of public confidence, are making money after years in the red. Today, in this country, the commercial air pay-load is twice that of the rest of the world combined! Obviously Mr. Roosevelt does not want anyone killed. He has expressed pride in the C.A.A. record. Why, then, isn't he willing to leave well enough alone? There are two answers. One is that he has more confidence in Harry Hopkins than the country has. Second, it goes back to his firing Mr. Humphreys of the Federal Trade Commission six years ago because he refused to take orders.

When the Supreme Court in 1935 unanimously decided that Mr. Roosevelt had acted illegally in the Humphreys case, his jaw set. He was going to have his way. In 1937 brain trusters Brownlow, Merriam and Gulick proposed to reorganize the government so as to give Mr. Roosevelt the power to fire every independent commission over night if they refused to knuckle to White House pressure. That effort was defeated after a terrific struggle.

But now Mr. Roosevelt stubbornly returns to the contest. He wants aviation and all other commissions to be placed in his power. He says so. Those who rallied to defeat the first reorganization bill should immediately wire their Senators and Congressmen to defeat the present plan.

Consensus Shows Strife In Both Parties Prior To Ohio Primary

F. D.'S STAND WATCHED

Few Contests For G. O. P.
Nominations Result In
Quiet Campaigns

COLUMBUS, April 30—Various reasons were offered today by political leaders for the apparent lack of interest among voters and candidates in the May 14th pre-primary campaign, just two weeks away.

A consensus of opinion disclosed the obviously apathetic conditions in Ohio political circles were due principally to the following:

- 1.—Split in the Democratic ranks because of the candidacy of former Gov. Martin L. Davey.
- 2.—Uncertainty over the outcome of the Democratic and Republican national conventions and President Roosevelt's prolonged silence on the third-term issue.
- 3.—Worry over the present European conflict and its outcome. (Candidates especially contend it is hopeless to campaign and hope to win votes through statements in newspapers as long as war news monopolizes the front pages.)
- 4.—Fear (mostly among Democrats) that if they campaign openly for certain candidates, they may find themselves on a "bandwagon" that is not in the political parade after the primary.

Other Reasons
Those are the main reasons. There are a few minor ones hardly worth mentioning. And a few candidates feel there is widespread interest, "especially in my campaign."

Lack of interest in most contests for Republican nominations to state posts obviously is due to the fact there are few contests. Incumbent Republican officials who are unopposed for renomination are Governor Bricker, Lieut. Gov. Paul Herbert, State Treasurer Don H. Ebright, Attorney General Thomas J. Another one of Ferguson's aides intimated that county chairmen were not sponsoring political meetings because they wanted to keep the total vote small "so they can control it."

By District Bench

The district Court of Appeals in a decision returned Monday upholds Judge Lemuel Weldon of Probate Court and Judge Meeker Terwilliger of Common Pleas Court in their decisions concerning the contest over the estate of the late Lillie M. Carter of Deercreek Township.

Both judges refused to approve exceptions taken to the inventory as filed by Frank V. Carter, administrator of his wife's estate.

Mrs. Carter died November 8, 1936.

All three judges of the court, including Roy Gillen who wrote the opinion, Russell McCurdy and Pete J. Blosser concurred in the decision.

It was the sixth consecutive month with a higher traffic toll than the corresponding month of the previous year, the council stated.

Statement Of Position To Be Heard After Republicans Meet In June

PRESIDENT TO RETIRE
Effort To Restore Harmony In Texas Seen As One Indication

WASHINGTON, April 30—There was increasing evidence today that President Roosevelt ultimately will declare himself out of the 1940 race.

The signs were seen as a White House-approved move was made to restore harmony in Texas between third term advocates and the forces of Vice President Jack Garner.

Mr. Roosevelt's statement of position one way or the other is not expected until after the Republicans have nominated their candidates at Philadelphia in late June, but when it does come his lieutenants believe it will be couched in such positive terms that there will be no question as to the meaning.

Intimates of the President are convinced Mr. Roosevelt wants to quit at the end of his second term. They believe that after eight grueling years in the White House he wants to get out and loaf a bit and enjoy himself.

Those who observe his daily activities at the White House and accompany him to Hyde Park and Warm Springs have noticed that in recent months he has been arranging and cataloging his books, papers, etc., in a fashion that would indicate he was preparing to leave public life.

Europe's Trend Watched
One member of the White House inner circle made only one qualification in following this line of reasoning—"that events in Europe might be piling up so fast as to make him do something he doesn't want to do."

Meanwhile, for the obvious purpose of dominating the Democratic convention in Chicago next July, whether a candidate or not, President Roosevelt is letting the third termers roll up an imposing array of delegates for him. He is insistent that his party nominate "a liberal pair of candidates on a liberal, forward-looking platform."

The Texas harmony move was made by House Majority Leader Sam Rayburn, who was Vice President Garner's campaign manager in 1932, and Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson, an ardent New Dealer. They acted only after they had gone to the White House and laid their plan before Mr. Roosevelt, who approved.

Telegrams sent to Assistant Secretary of Interior A. J. Wirtz, now in Austin sounding the trumpets for a third term, and Myron G. Blalock, Garner's Texas manager, warning that "we cannot beat the Republican party in November if we concentrate on beating each other now."

Rayburn and Johnson suggested to Wirtz and Blalock that both sides get together and send to the convention a delegation instructed for Garner which, however, would refuse to become a party to any stop-Roosevelt movement. Further it was proposed that the state convention "approve and acclaim" the administration's record during the last seven years.

SCIENTISTS GO SIX MILES HIGH TO STUDY RAYS

CHICAGO, April 30—A group of University of Chicago scientists planned a four-hour flight some six miles high above Chicago today in another of a series of experiments to gain data on cosmic rays.

Scheduled to make the flight were Dr. Gerhard Herzog and Winston Bostwick, associates of Dr. Arthur H. Compton, noted University of Chicago physicist, and Wilfred Davies, airlines research engineer. The flight was to be made in a transport plane.

The party hoped to make photographs and a recording of cosmic rays.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES OF Ohio Candidates FOR U. S. SENATE

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here is the second of the biographical series on candidates seeking various nominations at the May 14 primary.

COLUMBUS, April 30—Three Republicans and two Democrats are seeking two U. S. senatorial nominations at the May 14 primary. One will be elected in November to succeed U. S. Sen. Vic Donahey, Democrat, who recently announced his retirement from public life.

Interest is centered on the G.O.P. contest between Congressman Dudley A. White, Norwalk publisher, and Mayor Harold H. Burton, of Cleveland. The third aspirant is C. F. Wharton, Kenton.

In the Democratic column, John McSweeney, Wooster, former Congressman-at-Large, is opposing Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, Cincinnati, author of the "50-at-60" pension plan that was turned down by voters last November.

When he entered the race, Bigelow declared he was not interested in the nomination, except as a means of obtaining publicity for his pension scheme, which he hopes to submit to voters again this autumn.

Senators are paid an annual salary of $10,000, plus expenses for traveling and clerk hire. Following are brief biographical sketches of candidates:

REPUBLICANS
WHITE, Dudley A., Norwalk—Born at New London, O., about 40 years ago, White was educated in the public schools there but never went to college.

One of a large family, White was forced early to aid his parents financially. He sold papers, shined shoes, operated a popcorn stand, worked on a farm and clerked in a dry goods store.

During the World War he enlisted in the U. S. Navy and served in the Listeners Corps. After the war he became active in the Ohio American Legion, and once served as Ohio Department commander.

In 1924 he married Alice Davenport Snyder. They have two children, Alice Mae White, 14 and Dudley, Jr., 10.

Late the same year he became associated with the Norwalk Reflector Herald. He served as editor and later publisher for 15 years. He also was named vice president of the Sandusky Newspapers, Inc.

In 1936 he was elected to Congress from the 13th District, one of two GOP candidates elected to a major office in the Democratic landslide. He was re-elected in 1938.

He is bitterly opposed to the New Deal and has been a champion in Washington of Governor Bricker and his "economy" administration.

BURTON, Harold H., Cleveland—Born at Jamaica Plain, Mass., June 22, 1888, Burton attended Allen English and Classical school and Newton High school at Newton, Mass. In 1909 he obtained his Bachelor of Arts degree from Bowdoin college, in Maine, and went on to Harvard Law school, from which he was graduated in 1912.

He was admitted to the Ohio bar in 1912 and practiced in Cleveland. In 1914 he was admitted to the bar in Utah and served for two years as an attorney for the Utah Power & Light Co. From there he went on to Idaho in the same capacity for another utility.

During the war he served as first lieutenant and later captain of the 361st infantry, and saw action in the St. Mihiel, Meuse-Argonne and Ypres offensives. He returned to Cleveland to practice law and teach it at Western Reserve university.

His political career embraces: 1929, member of 88th Ohio General Assembly; 1929-31, Cleveland law director; 1930, acting city manager of Cleveland; 1931-32, acting mayor of Cleveland; elected mayor of Cleveland in 1934 and re-elected in 1936 and 1938.

In 1912 Burton married Selma Florence Smith, of West Newton, Mass. They have four children:

VILLAGE BOOSTS ITS POPULATION

Ashville Ready To Annex Outlying Districts To Increase Numbers

By S. D. Fridley
Ashville, Phone 79

By no less an authority than our A. B. Cooper, there are 49 homes in adjacent territory to both the East and North of our village. And with a reasonable estimate of four members to the family our population when once this territory, now in process of annexation, is actually a part of us, the really count will be 1300 instead of the 1099 as now recorded. Just had not thought of this territory annexing in time to get in before the census taking period. But in and along the borders, there are at least 1,300 living souls. So in naming the number of our population, you should happen to say 1300 instead of 1099, there really would be no good and honest reason why anyone should tell you what you are. And with Earl and Mrs. Boyer setting the pace with those twin boys, at the beginning of the next ten-year census period, "take heart," we're doing fine, keep it going.

WHARTON, Charles E., Kenton—Born in Champaign County, Wharton attended elementary school at Marysville. He has been a merchant for 60 years. Wharton long has been a familiar figure on the Ohio political scene, both as a Republican and a Democrat.

Wharton twice was an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator, and once lost the Republican race for congressman-at-large in 1935. Now again he is in the GOP column.

In 1935, Wharton became the guiding light behind a proposed state chain of Democratic clubs that would support Republican candidates for president and governor. Wharton is president of the Federated Farm clubs of Ohio.

He was married to the late Letitia Sloan. They had three children: Dr. R. S. Wharton, of Little Rock, Ark., Mrs. L. W. Shepherd, Lima, and Eva.

DEMOCRATS

McSWEENEY, John, Wooster—Born in Wooster, O., December 19, 1890, McSweeney was educated in the elementary schools there and later attended Wooster college, from which he was graduated in 1912. He was admitted to the Ohio bar in 1925.

During the World War, McSweeney served overseas with the 37th Ohio division, and was aide-de-camp to General Charles S. Farnsworth.

In 1919 and 1920, he served as president of the Wooster city council. From 1922 to 1928 he was a Congressman from the 16th Ohio district.

Former Gov. George White named McSweeney state welfare director in 1931, a post he held until 1935. In 1936 he was elected Congressman-at-Large. He is a member of the Wooster Board of Education.

Since 1924, McSweeney has been married to the former Abby Schaefer, of Richmond, Ind. He attends the Episcopal church.

BIGELOW, Herbert S., Cincinnati—Born at Elkhart, Ind., January 4, 1870, Bigelow attended the elementary schools in that city. For a while he attended Oberlin College, and then went on to Western Reserve university, from which he was graduated in 1894. He was ordained a clergyman and served as pastor of the Peoples church for 43 years.

Bigelow served in the Ohio legislature in 1913-14. In 1936 he was elected to the Cincinnati council, but dropped out of local political to go to Congress in 1937-38. Last autumn he was re-elected to the Cincinnati council.

He won nation-wide recognition last November as the author of the "50-at-60" pension plan which was turned down by Ohio voters by an overwhelming majority. He hopes to bring the question to a vote again this year.

LABOR DEFEAT?

Saner heads, such as Joe Martin, on the Republican side of Congress don't at all agree with the labor-baiters of the Rules Committee regarding the wisdom of forcing congressional consideration of the Smith amendments to the National Labor Relations Act. They figure this will play directly into the hands of the President, help him become the battling champion of the working man once again.

What the Rules Committee did was unprecedented in congressional history. It took the drastic Smith amendments after the Labor Committee had turned them down, and placed them, together with other amendments, before the House for consideration.

It happens that both the AFL and the CIO are vehemently opposed to the Smith amendments. Further, the amendments haven't a chance to be enacted. Even if the House approves them the odds are ten to one that they will never get out of the Senate Labor Committee. Even if by some fluke they should get by the Senate, they will run straight into a presidential veto.

This would give Roosevelt the chance for a resounding salvo about the rights of labor and the infamy of the opposition. It would make marvelous campaign ammunition to belabor the GOP and to gag critics in union ranks.

So the only gain the little group of NLRB-haters is likely to derive from its coup is the personal satisfaction of taking a poke at the Labor Board. To the insider leaders, with their eyes fixed on the coming crucial election, that is too expensive a luxury.

Along with the election of officers for the coming year, at the recent Community Club meeting, a constitution and by-laws was adopted and a committee appointed to solicit new members. Not less than one hundred members is the goal set.

The splendid celebration of the fiftieth year existence of the local Methodist church here Sunday, reminds us that it won't be long now until the United Brethren people will be celebrating their 100 years of church organization existence. It was at first, now known as "Old Rehobeth" and located northeast of the village, the structure yet in existence, at least in part, and occupied by the Cook family. The Whitehead, Cline, Brintlinger and Pontius families were among the leaders in the early days of this church organization.

Tomorrow morning, May 1, before sunrise, is according to the old time sign believers, the time to plant melon and cucumber seeds because if done at this time, no bugs will bother during the season. And to make the sign work right and hold good for sure, the pants you wear must be minus.

A nearby farmer told us that he'd be planting corn yet this week if the ground was reasonably fit to work. Said with him the early planting most always proved best. Too, that in this territory at least of all corn planted 90 percent is of the hybrid variety.

was turned down by Ohio voters by an overwhelming majority. He hopes to bring the question to a vote again this year.

F. D.'S MOTHER RESTING AFTER FOOD POISONING

NEW YORK, April 30—Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, 85-year-old mother of the President, was reported today to have spent a "restful night" at her East 65th Street home following an attack apparently caused by food poisoning.

It was not found necessary to summon a physician, and early today members of her household staff said she was "fully recovered."

Mrs. Roosevelt was stricken while on her way to visit the New York World's Fair Grounds yesterday afternoon. She was forced to halt her automobile and go to a drug store in Corona, Queens, where John Tangredi, registered pharmacist, attended her.

After remaining for two hours in the drug store, Mrs. Roosevelt walked unaided to her machine and returned to her home in Manhattan.

Word of Mrs. Roosevelt's illness was received in Washington and President Roosevelt dropped everything to place a long distance call to the drug store. Told his mother was all right and that she already had left for home, the President telephoned her residence where Mrs. Roosevelt personally assured her son she was "feeling fine" and that she "loved" the drug store.

"She promised to send me an autographed photo," Druggist Tangredi beamed.

SKUNK ATTACKING STOCK FOUND TO BE INFECTED

A. H. Crowner, Monroe Township farmer, recently noticed a disturbance in his barnyard and on investigation found a skunk was attacking his sheep and pigs. Crowner killed the skunk and sent its head to Dr. A. D. Blackburn, county health commissioner, who turned it over to the State Laboratory in Columbus for investigation. In a telegram to Dr. Blackburn Monday afternoon the State Laboratory reported the skunk to have shown a positive test for rabies.

A number of pigs and sheep were bitten, but Dr. Blackburn believes that if Crowner disposes of them immediately there will be no danger of spreading the disease to the rest of his livestock, because a bitten animal seldom becomes rabid within 30 days.

There has been a number of cases of rabies reported in Franklin County and it is believed that a rabid dog had bitten the skunk.

MRS. EDGAR T. HASWELL DIES; RITES IN ILLINOIS

Mrs. Edgar T. Haswell of Villa Park, Ill., died April 27 with the funeral and burial conducted April 30 in that city.

Mrs. Haswell, a niece of Miss Edith Haswell and J. C. Haswell of Circleville, at one time resided in this city for more than a year.

Miss Haswell and her brother were unable to attend the funeral.

SMITH HELD IN CONTEMPT

James Smith, 215 West Huston Street, was sentenced to 10 days in County Jail by Judge Meeker Terwilliger Tuesday when he failed to comply with a court order demanding that he provide for his children. After serving five days of his sentence, Smith will be released from jail, and if he complies with the order of the court will not be required to serve the remainder of the term.

When thy wars were fought out of the seas, thou fillest many people; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise.—Ezekiel 27: 33.

George F. Grand-Girard, West Main Street druggist, will observe the sixty-second anniversary of his store Wednesday, May 1. The drug store was opened in that location May 1, 1878, and Mr. Grand-Girard operated it since its institution. No special celebration has been planned for the day.

Frank A. Lynch continues to make an excellent recovery after a major operation that he underwent last week in University Hospital, Columbus.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise went to Columbus Tuesday to inspect the new fire truck being built for Circleville by the Seagrave Corporation. The truck is nearing completion.

Mrs. Anna Rankin, East Union Street, is in Columbus helping to care for her niece, Mrs. A. B. Earnshaw, who underwent a major operation Monday in White Cross Hospital.

The D. U. V. Sewing Club meeting announced for Wednesday afternoon has been postponed until further notice. The members will attend the funeral of L. E. Miller.

Thirty-five persons participated Tuesday in the cattle feeder's tour sponsored by the Pickaway County Farm Bureau.

The Ascension Day of Prayer will be observed Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the United Brethren Church, the meeting taking place of the regular weekly prayer service. This is a world wide service of the U. B. Church, and is substituted for the Good Friday Day of Prayer.

BRICKER DENIES CRISIS IN RELIEF

Bricker replied to that charge by saying that state funds went to cities that certified how much they had spent for relief, whether the bills were paid or not. He added that certifications were based either on resources of the various communities or available resources.

The auditor's office stated that at least 50 relief areas in the state, out of a total of 146, now were "in the red" as a result of caring for the needy during the past few months.

O. P. Van Schoick, chief examiner for Ferguson, said Cleveland's unpaid relief bills totaled $3,581,098, whereas the city's bank balance for that purpose showed only $768,978 as of March 1.

Other areas facing crises, he said, included:

Athens County; relief fund overdrawn $7,180 as of April 1; total deficit $64,373.

Belmont County; has relief balance of $17,192 as of April 1, but unpaid bills total $61,922.

City of Toledo; $120,688 in fund as of April 1; unpaid bills total $1,074,041.

Columbus; fund overdrawn $198,615 as of April 1; total deficit $489,470.

Ferguson contended that under such conditions the grocers, small merchants and physicians in the various communities "are financing the relief program" by waiting for their money.

"And I don't see where the cities are going to get the money to pay those bills," Ferguson concluded.

DEWEY BETTER; CANDIDATE MAY PLAY SOME GOLF

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 30—Thomas E. Dewey, New York district attorney and Republican presidential aspirant, was sufficiently recovered today from a slight illness to consider a round of golf.

Whether a tour of the fairways would be permitted the young racket buster, however, remained for his physician to decide.

Dewey spent three days in bed with an upset stomach and slight fever which he believed was caused by the irregular diet he maintained during his western campaign tour.

It was expected Dewey and his party would leave Colorado Springs Thursday night, for speeches at Wichita, Kansas, and Marshalltown and Des Moines, Ia. He plans to return to New York on Monday.

NAZI COLUMNS CONVERGING ON STOEREN REGION

Allied Troops Pour Into Key Positions To Meet Advancing Germans

In London the British air ministry announced another "successful" air attack on the German-held air base at Fornebu, near Oslo. The Daily Telegraph said Allied troop reinforcements had landed at Nordfjord, Sunndalsjord and Sogfjord.

According to a Reuters dispatch from "somewhere in Norway," five persons were killed and many were injured when German planes bombed two hospital ships off Aalesund. Reuters said the casualties occurred aboard the hospital ship Brand IV. The hospital ship Bethel was attacked at the same time, said the agency, but no casualties were reported aboard this vessel.

A German radio broadcast promptly denied the charges, claiming that German planes "neither attack hospitals nor hospital ships, which operate under protection of the Red Cross, if they are made clearly visible as such."

Another German broadcast said the recent Allied supreme war council had decided on strong land, sea and air attacks to recapture Trondheim from the Germans, but added the Reich is "well prepared" to meet the Allies' assaults.

Trade Talk Bogs Down

In London, British experts studied a new Russian proposal for conclusion of a London-Moscow trade pact. The Soviets were reported to have indicated their willingness to agree that British goods supplied to Russia would not be re-exported to Germany, but reserved the right to sell her own goods to Germany without restriction.

Trade negotiations between Germany and Sweden were adjourned in Stockholm last night after progressing for a week. It was stated, however, that they will be resumed shortly in Berlin.

HOUSE ECONOMY ENDANGERED BY FARM BILL VOTE

WASHINGTON, April 30—The economy record of the house will receive its severest test of the session today as members vote on three amendments to the annual farm supply bill totalling $347,000,000.

The controversy was thrust before the house amid growing bitterness between the "city bloc" and "farm bloc" over proposed drastic modification of the wage-hour law.

Some members of the so-called "city bloc" threatened to help defeat the farm aid amendments, unless rural members agree to join in the fight to prevent riding of the wage-hour law.

The wage-hour fight was laid aside so that the house could consider the $922,000,000 farm supply bill. Chief subjects of controversy were senate amendments appropriating $212,000,000 for parity payments, $85,000,000 for the food stamp plan and $50,000,000 for farm tenant loans.

Leaders asked the house to approve the parity fund with a provision authorizing payment of full parity prices, instead of 75 percent under present law. This was done so that wheat farmers could share in the $212,000,000. With wheat prices now 75 percent above parity, they would get no money on the present basis of distribution.

Rep. Woodrum (D) Va., leader of the house "economy bloc," planned to lead the fight against the $347,000,000 addition.

FLAMES KILL TWO PHILADELPHIA, April 30—Two young men were burned to death and five other persons were injured when fire of undetermined origin swept through a two-story row house in West Philadelphia early today. The dead were Harry Rothstein, 26, and Oscar Bloch, 28. Firemen said they apparently had been overcome by smoke before they could reach a safe part of the blazing second floor.

BRITISH REVIEW WAR SITUATION

structures is proving effective in hampering the Germans, he said. There was no attempt to disguise the fact, however, that the British are hard-pressed in the Dombaa area. German forces are reported in possession of both Roeros and Stoeren, the latter point one of the terminals of the strategically important Dombaa-Stoeren railroad.

This rail line is one of the chief bulwarks of the British communications system in central Norway and is believed to be the immediate objective of the German offensive. The British spokesman stressed that the report regarding German possession of Stoeren was considered highly important, but that it still is entirely without official confirmation. For this reason, said the spokesman, it should "not be taken too seriously."

If the Germans are in Stoeren, said the British source, it may be that only a small advance party has occupied the town. Meanwhile, it was reported that Allied forces hold the town of Hjerken, while the Germans were said to have reached Gudavangen further south.

Earlier air ministry announced that British war planes last night successfully attacked the German-held airbase at Fornebu near Oslo.

Meanwhile, the London Daily Telegraph, in a dispatch from the Norwegian-Swedish frontier, said that disembarkation of Allied forces in Norway is continuing at an accelerated pace.

New landing of Allied troops were reported at Sunndalsfjord and Nordfjord as well as at Sognefjord, and some of these troops already have reached Gudbrands Valley, strengthening Allied resistance against the Germans at Kvam, 41 miles southeast of Dombaa, the telegraph said.

$10,000 SENT TO AID NORWEGIANS FLEEING NATION

WASHINGTON, April 30—The American Red Cross today cabled $10,000 to the Swedish Red Cross for relief of Norwegian refugees in Sweden.

The relief will be given in cooperation with the newly formed Royal Swedish Relief Committee of which Crown Prince Gustaf Adolph of Sweden is president.

American Red Cross representatives in Stockholm cabled headquarters that the situation among the Norwegian refugees is desperate and added:

"Impossible to determine the number of Norwegian refugees in Sweden today, but families are swarming across the border, and hundreds of homes and small businesses have been demolished by the aerial bombing of villages, towns and countryside, chiefly in northern Norway."

STATE HOSPITAL HEAD DECLARES SUSPECTS SANE

BELLEFONTAINE, April 30—

At a sanity hearing in Logan County Common Pleas court, Dr. E. L. Hooper, superintendent of the state hospital at Dayton, testified today that in his belief Donald Slater, 18, and Mrs. Minnie Jenkins, 47, are sane.

Slater and Mrs. Jenkins, together with the latter's son, Merlin, also 18, are charged with the first degree murder of Mrs. Jenkins' husband, Fred. The court took the testimony under advisement but did not rule whether Slater and Mrs. Jenkins should be brought to trial.

Dr. Hooper said that after a period of observation from March 25 to April 19, he was of the opinion that both the defendants are sane. They were taken to the Dayton hospital after defense counsel requested a sanity hearing.

Cross-examined by Roy W. Roof, of Kenton, the defense attorney, Dr. Hooper said Mrs. Jenkins and Slater are well physically. He added that there was no history of any mental trouble in either's family.

Mrs. Jenkins, son, Merlin, was also indicted for first degree murder in the slaying of Jenkins at his nearby Huntsville home, but was not given a sanity test.

STARS SAY—

For Tuesday, April 30

AN EVENTFUL day, with affairs moving at high tempo, is predicted from the predominant planetary configurations. The movement will descend with sudden and possibly revolutionary force, causing change of plans and objectives if not environment, and attended by unforeseen hazards. However, the general trend is toward a rampant spirit of initiative and definite purpose, with the forces and faculties under excellent stimuli for achievement and success. A parallel situation of excitement and commotion is found in private affairs.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of an extremely lively and enterprising year, with much of the surprising and unpredictable maturing in connection with new plans and great ambitions. These, while spurred by high pressure, energies and initiative, carry unforeseen perils, but managed with forethought, hold initiative and acumen, should bring splendid results. In social, domestic and romantic affairs similar high tension and satisfaction may be anticipated. It is promising for well-directed and resolute action. A child born on this day may be aggressive, ambitious, dynamic and indomitable, although probably restive and erratic. Its splendid energies and faculties assure it marked success and much personal prestige and happiness.

Boy, Oh Boy!

A refrigerator salesman would have a hard time finding customers in the Arctic. But here in Pickaway County people who have things to sell just use a Herald Want-ad. It's simpler—and costs much less.

F. D.'S MOTHER RESTING AFTER FOOD POISONING

NEW YORK, April 30—Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, 85-year-old mother of the President, was reported today to have spent a "restful night" at her East 65th Street home following an attack apparently caused by food poisoning.

SKUNK ATTACKING STOCK FOUND TO BE INFECTED

A. H. Crownover, Monroe Township farmer, recently noticed a disturbance in his barnyard and on investigation found a skunk was attacking his sheep and pigs. Crownover killed the skunk and sent its head to Dr. A. D. Blackburn, county health commissioner, who turned it over to the State Laboratory in Columbus for investigation. In a telegram to Dr. Blackburn Monday afternoon the State Laboratory reported the skunk to have shown a positive test for rabies.

A number of pigs and sheep were bitten, but Dr. Blackburn believes that if Crownover disposes of them immediately there will be no danger of spreading the disease to the rest of his livestock, because a bitten animal seldom becomes rabid within 30 days.

There has been a number of cases of rabies reported in Franklin County and it is believed that a rabid dog had bitten the skunk.

MRS. EDGAR T. HASWELL DIES; RITES IN ILLINOIS

Miss Haswell and her brother were unable to attend the funeral.

When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many people; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise.—Ezekiel 27: 35.

George F. Grand-Girard, West Main Street druggist, will observe the sixty-second anniversary of his store Wednesday May 1. The drug store was opened in that location May 1, 1878, and Mr. Grand-Girard operated it since its institution. No special celebration has been planned for the day.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise went to Columbus Tuesday to inspect the new fire truck being built for Circleville by the Seagrave Corporation. The truck is nearing completion.

Mrs. Anna Rankin, East Union Street, is in Columbus helping to care for her niece, Mrs. A. B. Earnshaw, who underwent a major operation Monday in White Cross Hospital.

BRICKER DENIES CRISIS IN RELIEF

appropriate similar amounts for relief.

Bricker replied to that charge by saying that state funds went to cities that certified how much they had spent for relief, whether the bills were paid or not. He added that certifications were based either on resources of the various communities or available resources.

The auditor's office stated that at least 50 relief areas in the state, out of a total of 146, now were "in the red" as a result of caring for the needy during the past few months.

O. P. Van Schoick, chief examiner for Ferguson, said Cleveland's unpaid relief bills totaled $3,381,098, whereas the city's bank balance for that purpose showed only $768,978 as of March 1.

Other areas facing crises, he said, included:

Athens County: relief fund overdrawn $7,180 as of April 1; total deficit $64,373.

Belmont County: has relief balance of $17,192 as of April 1, but unpaid bills total $61,922.

City of Toledo: $120,688 in fund as of April 1; unpaid bills total $1,074,041.

Columbus: fund overdrawn $198,615 as of April 1; total deficit $459,470.

Ferguson contended that under such conditions the grocers, small merchants and physicians in the various communities "are financing the relief program" by waiting for their money.

"And I don't see where the cities are going to get the money to pay those bills," Ferguson concluded.

DEWEY BETTER; CANDIDATE MAY PLAY SOME GOLF

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 30—Thomas E. Dewey, New York district attorney and Republican presidential aspirant, was sufficiently recovered today from a slight illness to consider a round of golf.

Whether a tour of the fairways would be permitted the young racket buster, however, remained for his physician to decide.

Dewey spent three days in bed with an upset stomach and slight fever which he believed was caused by the irregular diet he maintained during his western campaign tour.

It was expected Dewey and his party would leave Colorado Springs Thursday night, for speeches at Wichita, Kansas, and Marshalltown and Des Moines, Ia. He plans to return to New York on Monday.

Allied Troops Pour Into Key Positions To Meet Advancing Germans

refugees from Norway emphasized the growing Norwegian military and civilian resistance to the Germans on every front.

In London the British air ministry announced another "successful" air attack on the German-held air base at Fornebu, near Oslo. The Daily Telegraph said Allied troop reinforcements had landed at Nordfjord, Sundalsfjord and Sogfjord.

According to a Reuters dispatch from "somewhere in Norway," five persons were killed and many were injured when German planes bombed two hospital ships off Alesund. Reuters said the casualties occurred aboard the hospital ship Brand IV. The hospital ship Bethel was attacked at the same time, said the agency, but no casualties were reported aboard this vessel.

A German radio broadcast promptly denied the charges, claiming that German planes "neither attack hospitals nor hospital ships, which operate under protection of the Red Cross, if they are made clearly visible as such."

Another German broadcast said the recent Allied supreme war council had decided on strong land, sea and air attacks to recapture Trondheim from the Germans, but added the Reich is "well prepared" to meet the Allies' assaults.

Trade Talk Bogs Down

In London, British experts studied a new Russian proposal for conclusion of a London-Moscow trade pact. The Soviets were reported to have indicated their willingness to agree that British goods supplied to Russia would not be re-exported to Germany, but reserved the right to sell her own goods to Germany without restriction.

Trade negotiations between Germany and Sweden were adjourned in Stockholm last night after progressing for a week. It was stated, however, that they will be resumed shortly in Berlin.

HOUSE ECONOMY ENDANGERED BY FARM BILL VOTE

WASHINGTON, April 30—The economy record of the house will receive its severest test of the session today as members vote on three amendments to the annual farm supply bill totalling $347,000,000.

The controversy was thrust before the house amid growing bitterness between the "city bloc" and "farm bloc" over proposed drastic modification of the wage-hour law.

Some members of the so-called "city bloc" threatened to help defeat the farm aid amendments, unless rural members agree to join in the fight to prevent riddling of the wage-hour law.

The wage-hour fight was laid aside so that the house could consider the $922,000,000 farm supply bill. Chief subjects of controversy were senate amendments appropriating $212,000,000 for parity payments, $85,000,000 for the food stamp plan and $50,000,000 for farm tenant loans.

Leaders asked the house to approve the parity fund with a provision authorizing payment of full parity prices, instead of 75 percent under present law. This was done so that wheat farmers could share in the $212,000,000. With wheat prices now 75 percent above parity, they would get no money on the present basis of distribution.

Rep. Woodrum (D) Va., leader of the house "economy bloc," planned to lead the fight against the $347,000,000 addition.

FLAMES KILL TWO PHILADELPHIA, April 30

Two young men were burned to death and five other persons were injured when fire of undetermined origin swept through a two-story row house in West Philadelphia early today. The dead were Harry Rothstein, 26, and Oscar Bloch, 28. Firemen said they apparently had been overcome by smoke before they could reach a safe part of the blazing second floor.

BRITISH REVIEW WAR SITUATION

structures is proving effective in hampering the Germans, he said.

There was no attempt to disguise the fact, however, that the British are hard-pressed in the Dombaa area. German forces are reported in possession of both Roeros and Stoeren, the latter point one of the terminals of the strategically important Dombaa-Stoeren railroad.

This rail line is one of the chief bulwarks of the British communications system in central Norway and is believed to be the immediate objective of the German offensive.

The British spokesman stressed that the report regarding German possession of Stoeren was considered highly important, but that it still is entirely without official confirmation. For this reason, said the spokesman, it should "not be taken too seriously."

If the Germans are in Stoeren, said the British source, it may be that only a small advance party has occupied the town.

Harkin Held By Allies

Meanwhile, it was reported that Allied forces hold the town of Harkin, while the Germans were said to have reached Gudavanan further south.

Earlier air ministry announced that British war planes last night successfully attacked the German-held airbase at Fornebu near Oslo.

Meanwhile, the London Daily Telegraph, in a dispatch from the Norwegian-Swedish frontier, said that disembarkation of Allied forces in Norway is continuing at an accelerated pace.

New Landing of Allied Troops were reported at Sundalsfjord and Nordfjord as well as at Sognefjord, and some of these troops already have reached Gudbrands Valley, strengthening Allied resistance against the Germans at Kvam, 41 miles southeast of Dombaa, the telegraph said.

$10,000 SENT TO AID NORWEGIANS FLEEING NATION

WASHINGTON, April 30—The American Red Cross today cabled $10,000 to the Swedish Red Cross for relief of Norwegian refugees in Sweden.

The relief will be given in cooperation with the newly formed Royal Swedish Relief Committee of which Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf of Sweden is president.

American Red Cross representatives in Stockholm cabled headquarters that the situation among the Norwegian refugees is desperate and added:

"Impossible to determine the number of Norwegian refugees in Sweden today, but families are swarming across the border, and hundreds of homes and small businesses have been demolished by the aerial bombing of villages, towns and countryside, chiefly in northern Norway."

STATE HOSPITAL HEAD DECLARES SUSPECTS SANE

BELLEFONTAINE, April 30—

At a sanity hearing in Logan County Common Pleas court, Dr. E. L. Hooper, superintendent of the state hospital at Dayton, testified today that in his belief Donald Slater, 18, and Mrs. Minnie Jenkins, 47, are sane.

Slater and Mrs. Jenkins, together with the latter's son, Merlin, also 18, are charged with the first degree murder of Mrs. Jenkins' husband, Fred. The court took the testimony under advisement but did not rule whether Slater and Mrs. Jenkins should be brought to trial.

Dr. Hooper said that after a period of observation from March 25 to April 19, he was of the opinion that both the defendants are sane. They were taken to the Dayton hospital after defense counsel requested a sanity hearing.

Cross-examined by Roy W. Roof, of Kenton, the defense attorney, Dr. Hooper said Mrs. Jenkins and Slater are well physically. He added that there was no history of any mental trouble in either's family.

Mrs. Jenkins, son, Merlin, was also indicted for first degree murder in the slaying of Jenkins at his nearby Huntsville home, but was not given a sanity test.

STARS SAY—

For Tuesday, April 30

AN EVENTFUL day, with affairs moving at high tempo, is predicted from the predominant planetary configurations. The movement will descend with sudden and possibly revolutionary force, causing change of plans and objectives if not environment, and attended by unforeseen hazards. However, the general trend is toward a rampant spirit of initiative and definite purpose, with the forces and faculties under excellent stimuli for achievement and success. A parallel situation of excitement and commotion is found in private affairs.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of an extremely lively and enterprising year, with much of the surprising and unpredictable maturing in connection with new plans and great ambitions. These, while spurred by high pressure, energies and initiative, carry unforeseen perils, but managed with forethought, bold initiative and acumen, should bring splendid results. In social, domestic and romantic affairs similar high tension and satisfaction may be anticipated. It is promising for well-directed and resolute action.

A child born on this day may be aggressive, ambitious, dynamic and indomitable, although probably restive and erratic. Its splendid energies and faculties assure it marked success and much personal prestige and happiness.

NO CANADIAN ANSCHLUSS

THERE are senators with fearful imaginations at Ottawa, as there are at Washington. Senator C. O. Beaubien of Quebec is worried about what would happen to the Dominion if the Nazis should win the war, and fears that it would be kidnapped by Uncle Sam. We Americans wouldn't march into Canada with an army, in the benevolent and protective Nazi manner, but would probably send an army of salesmen and investors and steal all her business. A weakening or severing of the Canadian bond with Britain would strengthen this tendency.

He explains that "Canada is held in equilibrium between two forces — the natural economic force drawing it to the United States and the political force binding it to Great Britain." If the political lien disappears, what can prevent the economic force from operating freely?

Well, we already have not only a great deal of export business with Canada, but a great deal of American money invested there. In fact, Canadian economic development has proceeded very largely with the aid of American money and business talent. But we don't dominate the dominion yet in these matters, and there is no necessary reason why we ever should.

If these neighbors continue to show the energy and intelligence they have exercised during the last two or three decades, they'll all be getting along all right and also showing Uncle Sam a few tricks.

CHINA'S REFUGEES

THE chairman of China's National Relief Commission reports that there are 20,700,000 war refugees in the care of the country's national and local relief organizations. More than 150,000 war orphans are in the 240 orphanages under the direction of Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek.

As fast as possible refugees are being put to work in handicraft factories where they make cloth, paper, chinaware, blankets, and so on. There are also reclamation farms for the occupation of other thousands.

All this work is scattered through various provinces of China, wherever there is freedom from war. All, no doubt, would simply move on if it became necessary, as many schools have done again and again since the Japanese invasion began.

China's refugee problem is bigger than that of Europe, but its refugees may be a shade more fortunate than those elsewhere, because their country is so big that the invader can not dominate it and they can be helped by their own people without fleeing to foreign lands.

The war's now turning into a dogfight—anybody can get in.

There's war in the air waves, too, and every American with a short wave set has a ring-side seat.

KENNEDY WANTS TO RESIGN

WASHINGTON—You can write it down as certain that Joseph Patrick Kennedy, one of the most colorful and hard-working envoys sent to London, will resign as Ambassador to the Court of St. James's just as soon as the President will let him.

Joe is not in very good health, is a bit bored with the job, and also he has been a little too frank for the British. His statements indicating that the Empire might be in for a tough time before this war was won, did not sit so very well in London.

Finally, Ambassador Kennedy is in wrong with the British for failing to carry out the traditional duties of Walter Hines Page.

KEEPING COTTON KING

Next week, Henry Wallace and Milo Perkins will take the first step along a path which some economists think eventually will lead the solving the cotton surplus problem.

This is the cotton stamp plan which on May 7 will stage its world premiere in Memphis, Tennessee. For the present, the plan will operate only in this area, and only on an experimental basis. There will be modest expansion later.

In its simplest terms, the cotton stamp plan is a means of taking idle cotton out of warehouses, making it into shirts, and putting the shirts on the backs of the poor. As with the food stamp plan, the Government gives a needy person a free book of stamps in addition to each book that he buys. He uses the stamps to buy cotton goods—any kind of cotton goods at all.

There is a substantial difference between the food and cotton stamp plans. It is that only 10 or 15 cents of every dollar spent through the cotton stamps will go to the producer of cotton.

In the food plan, when a reliever buys a pound of butter, half the price returns to the farmer who made the butter. But cotton involves spinning and weaving, so the dollar has to be divided among the entire industry.

EXIT TUGWELL THEORY

Nobody in the Agriculture Department admits it yet, but actually the cotton stamp plan marks an important departure from the original Tugwell-Wallace theory of restricting acreage. Instead of growing less cotton and boosting the price, the effort will be to use more cotton.

What Wallace's experts have been up against is first that fact that Brazil, Argentina, and Peru are cutting in on the curtailed American market. Second, war-born purchases are bound to decline.

Thus no amount of acreage reduction can solve the problem of surpluses—especially when yield per acre continues to increase. The only alternative is to put an extra shirt on the backs of about 10,000,000 persons who live in the domain of King Cotton. In this case Cotton can remain King.

Rose Fever Caused by Grass Pollens

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

IT IS CALLED "rose fever" because it comes when the roses are blooming. Some people have it and some people don't. Some of those who have it refer to it as "my spring cold."

It was not until John Bostock, the Englishman, experimented on his own case that the guilty parties were found not to be the roses, but the grasses. John Bostock published his observations over 100 years ago, but nobody paid any attention to them until just lately.

It is natural for the rose fever victim to ascribe his trouble to the roses because when he smells the roses he is liable to get an attack. But this is merely because the sticky petals and stamens of the rose hold the wind-blown pollen of the grasses, and when the victim is in the room with the roses, the effort affects the mucous membrane of his nose.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The grasses which are responsible and the time of their blooming are as follows:

May 17—blue grass; May 17—rye; May 27—orchard grass; May 27—wheat; June 15—timothy; June 10—cattail; July 1-30—corn.

The treatment may be either palliative or preventive. By palliative treatment is meant the treatment of symptoms by nasal sprays and eye drops. This we will deal with in an article later on in the season when symptoms are likely to be acute. Preventive treatment consists in the use of pollen vaccines. It should start some time before the season begins. That is why I am drawing attention to it now.

The procedure as carried out by the modern doctor who is interested in allergy is to determine exactly what grass the victim is sensitive to.

The principle upon which this diagnosis rests is that the skin is very sensitive to the chemicals of the pollen, and when a solution of the pollen is made and injected into the skin, or rubbed into the skin, there will be a red and inflammatory area of considerable size. Several different pollens are rubbed in at the same time and the ones which show the largest wheal are those against which treatment is directed.

After the offending pollen is identified, hypodermic injections of weak dilutions of the pollen solution are made, growing stronger every week so that finally by the time the season opens, the patient will have acquired an immunity and can get through the season with little or no discomfort.

It is possible to give this preventive treatment co-seasonally, that is, beginning at the time the symptoms begin. My own experience has been that this vaccine treatment is more effective to use against the spring tide of hay fever than against the fall or ragweed type.

Doctor Vaughan, of Richmond, believes that 80 per cent of patients receive adequate relief with co-seasonal treatment and 85 per cent with pre-seasonal treatment. By adequate relief is meant the disappearance of 75 per cent of symptoms.

CHAPTER FORTY-SIX

THE SLAIN man's brother met me in front of my address ten minutes later in his automobile. He was excited. Before I had time to say a word he exclaimed, "So it was St. Clair? I suspected him all along! That business about—"

"No, it was not St. Clair!"

"But—"

"St. Clair can help explain your brother's death, but he had nothing to do with it."

George was taken aback. "How—how are you so sure?"

"Because I know who killed your brother."

"Then tell me!"

I shook my head. "In another fifteen minutes you will know. This is going to be a shock to you, and I want to prepare you for it. Let's go to St. Clair's office."

"How about the police?"

"Never mind the police."

He gave me a queer look, but started the car without further question.

St. Clair was surprised to see us. He invited us into a private room of the suite he occupied. "I was rather expecting the police before this," he said. "I suppose you want to see me about that matter of the bootleg liquor?"

He sounded tired. "I've been a fool. I suppose you are going to ask me to resign as president of the club. I've already written my resignation."

"Forget the bootleg liquor," I told him. "We're here on more serious business. We're inquiring into the death of Alfred Markham."

He whitened. "Surely you don't think that I—"

"I merely want you to explain something that led up to his death—something that happened on the night of May 16."

St. Clair frowned. Mechanically he waved us to seats, and sank into the big chair behind his desk. "I—I don't understand, Strickland. What happened the night of May 16?"

"That was the night we went to the club for midnight dinner for Jack Berry, who was going to be married the next day."

He clenched the arms of his chair. "Surely you don't mean that Jack Berry—"

"My God!" cried George. "Why, he's the last person I would suspect."

I raised my hands in despair at the impetuosity of these two men. "Listen! Don't jump to conclusions. On our way to that party, St. Clair, you and I stopped at the Markham home, remember? I want you to tell George Markham what happened."

St. Clair's mouth dropped open. "Why—I remember now. But Alfred had merely been suffering from a nightmare. He told us so himself. Nothing happened. He got over it. There couldn't have been any connection."

"Nevertheless, I want you to tell George exactly what happened. You may not see its significance, but I believe George will."

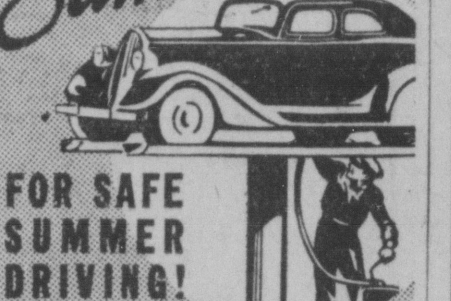

St. Clair began uncertainly. "It was shortly before 11 o'clock, I believe, when we arrived at your house, George. Of course you weren't there that night. The only one home was Alfred. We knew he was there, although he didn't answer the bell, so we walked in. There was a dim light in the library. We saw him on the couch there, groaning. I spoke, and he leaped up like a mad man. He came running out, making for the front door past us as though something horrible were chasing him. We stopped him, and after a few minutes he calmed down. He soon was laughing about it. Said he had dropped off to sleep on the couch and was having a nightmare. We frightened him, that was all."

On the way to the club I added, "There is one thing St. Clair didn't tell you about the night of May 16—because he didn't know about it."

It was a dark night. We waited for Alfred in the car as he went into the house at 2 Cleaves street.

When he came back and got into the car he was in better spirits, but he stumbled and something he was carrying in his right hand dropped to the floor of the car. I picked it up and handed it to him. I didn't know what it was, but I believe he thought I knew. He thought I recognized it as a bottle of narcotics. He thought I guessed his secret, although I didn't, until later.

We came to the club. I insisted on signing the register before we went out into the garden. "Just to show the police we're not trying to hide our visit here," I said. I signed with my left hand.

The garden was a place of color and perfume, but it was deserted, because on summer afternoons the sun beat into it unmercifully.

"Calla stood there," I explained. "He was telling the truth. You see, he was just a little around the corner of the building. He couldn't see the north wall."

"What is significant about that?"

"The bathroom window, the only window open into the court, could not be seen from where he stood."

"Still, I don't understand."

"I was in that window. I told the judge I looked down and saw Jerry stumble over the body. But Calla couldn't have seen me."

Markham grunted. "You didn't need to bring me out here to show me. I would have believed you. What's the significance?"

"Plenty!"

"I don't see..."

My nerves were almost in knots, but I explained as quietly as I could. "Isn't the evidence perfectly obvious? Do I have to tell you in plain English? It was I who killed your brother!"

After the offending pollen is identified, hypodermic injections of weak dilutions of the pollen solution are made, growing stronger every week so that finally by the time the season opens, the patient will have acquired an immunity and can get through the season with little or no discomfort.

It is possible to give this preventive treatment co-seasonally, that is, beginning at the time the symptoms begin. My own experience has been that this vaccine treatment is more effective to use against the spring type of hay fever than against the fall or ragweed type.

Doctor Vaughan, of Richmond, believes that 80 per cent of patients receive adequate relief with co-seasonal treatment and 85 per cent with pre-seasonal treatment. By adequate relief is meant the disappearance of 75 per cent of symptoms.

THE KILLER SPEAKS

RICHARD HOUGHTON

WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

CHAPTER FORTY-SIX

THE SLAIN man's brother met me in front of my address ten minutes later in his automobile. He was excited. Before I had time to say a word he exclaimed, "So it was St. Clair? I suspected him all along! That business about—" "No, it was not St. Clair!"

"But—" "St. Clair can help explain your brother's death, but he had nothing to do with it."

George was taken aback. "How—how are you so sure?" "Because I know who killed your brother."

"Then tell me!"

I shook my head. "In another fifteen minutes you will know. This is going to be a shock to you, and I want to prepare you for it. Let's go to St. Clair's office."

"How about the police?"

"Never mind the police."

He gave me a queer look, but started the car without further question.

St. Clair was surprised to see us. He invited us into a private room of the suite he occupied. "I was rather expecting the police before this," he said. "I suppose you want to see me about that matter of the bootleg liquor?" He sounded tired. "I've been a fool. I suppose you are going to ask me to resign as president of the club. I've already written my resignation."

"Forget the bootleg liquor," I told him. "We're here on more serious business. We're inquiring into the death of Alfred Markham."

He whitened. "Surely you don't think that—"

"I merely want you to explain something that led up to his death—something that happened on the night of May 16."

St. Clair frowned. Mechanically he waved us to seats, and sank into the big chair behind his desk. "I—I don't understand, Strickland. What happened the night of May 16?"

"That was the night we went to the club for a midnight dinner for Jack Berry, who was going to be married the next day."

He clenched the arms of his chair. "Surely you don't mean that Jack Berry—"

"My God!" cried George. "Why, he's the last person I would suspect."

I raised my hands in despair at the impetuosity of these two men. "Listen! Don't jump to conclusions. On our way to that party, St. Clair, you and I stopped at the Markham home, remember? I want you to tell me George Markham what happened."

St. Clair's mouth dropped open. "Why—I remember now. But Alfred had merely been suffering from a nightmare. He told us so himself. Nothing happened. He got over it. There couldn't have been any connection."

"Nevertheless, I want you to tell George exactly what happened. You may not see its significance, but I believe George will."

St. Clair began uncertainly. "It was shortly before 11 o'clock. I believe, when we arrived at your house, George. Of course you weren't there that night. The only one home was Alfred. We knew he was there, although he didn't answer the bell, so we walked in. There was a dim light in the library. We saw him on the couch there, groaning. I spoke, and he leaped up like a mad man. He came running out, making for the front door past us as though something horrible were chasing him. We stopped him, and after a few minutes he calmed down. He soon was laughing about it. Said he had dropped off to sleep on the couch and was having a nightmare. We

"It was I who killed your brother!"

frightened him, that was all."

St. Clair stopped, but I prompted him. "That wasn't all. What happened on the way to the party?"

"Oh, Alfred didn't want to go to the party. Said he had to see a man—it was a matter of life and death. We agreed to take him to see the fellow on the way. When we got into my car he gave us the address, down at the end of Cleaves street near the water front. I told him it was a bad district to visit in the middle of the night. He insisted on our going there."

George's eyes were widening. I saw that he was beginning to understand the significance of what St. Clair was saying.

"Go on," I prompted again. "Explain what you mean when you say 'Alfred insisted.' What was it he said?"

St. Clair objected. "Oh, now, Strickland, it was just a case of overwrought nerves. Surely you don't think he meant it?"

"Go on!"

St. Clair looked uncomfortable. "His exact words, as I remember them, were, 'I could kill any man who tried to keep me from this appointment tonight!'"

George Markham leaped to his feet. "My poor brother! What he must have been suffering!"

It was not the reaction St. Clair had expected. He stood up, his mouth open, but he didn't know what to say.

I piloted George toward the door. "Sorry," I said. "You understand now how bad it was."

George nodded miserably. "I can hardly believe it!"

St. Clair was obviously puzzled as he bid us goodbye. "I—I'm sorry, but Strickland insisted..."

Outside I asked that George drive to the Rio Vista club.

He sighed. "Is it necessary? You must know how I hate to go near that place. My nerves are almost broken now."

"It is necessary. That is where you will find the final clue."

On the way to the club I added, "There is one thing St. Clair didn't tell you about the night of May 16—because he didn't know about it."

It was a dark night. We waited for Alfred in the car as he went into the house at 2 Cleaves street. When he came back and got into the car he was in better spirits, but he stumbled and something he was carrying in his right hand dropped to the floor of the car. I picked it up and handed it to him. I didn't know what it was, but I believe he thought I knew. He thought I recognized it as a bottle of narcotics. He thought I guessed his secret, although I didn't, until later."

We came to the club. I insisted on signing the register before we went out into the garden. "Just to show the police we're not trying to hide our visit here," I said. I signed with my left hand.

The garden was left place of color and perfume, but it was deserted, because on summer afternoons the sun beat into it unmercifully.

"Calla stood there," I explained. "He was telling the truth. You see, he was just a little around the corner of the building. He couldn't see the north wall."

"What is significant about that?"

"The bathroom window, the only window open into the court, could not be seen from where he stood."

"Still, I don't understand."

"I was in that window. I told the judge I looked down and saw Jerry stumble over the body. But Calla couldn't have seen me."

Markham grunted. "You didn't need to bring me out here to show me. I would have believed you. What's the significance?"

"Plenty!"

"I don't see..."

My nerves were almost in knots, but I explained as quietly as I could. "Isn't the evidence perfectly obvious? Do I have to tell you in plain English? It was I who killed your brother!"

Monday Club Ends Year With Splendid Program

Medal Presented To Mrs. Howard Jones By Official

Circleville Monday Club, at its final yearly meeting Monday in St. Philip's parish house, enjoyed one of the most delightful evenings of a series highlighted by the Jubilee Celebration in March.

The outstanding feature of the affair was an aftermath of the celebration meeting when Mrs. William Gesling of Lancaster, president of the southeastern district of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, honored Mrs. Howard Jones, a charter member of Monday Club, with the presentation of a Pioneer Woman Medal on behalf of the Southeast District.

Mrs. Gesling, who was unable to appear as guest speaker at the Jubilee meeting, also presented the talk planned for that occasion. "One of the main objectives of the Golden Jubilee is to honor the woman who made it possible for us to have such a wonderful organization," said Mrs. Gesling in presenting the medal to Mrs. Jones. "From this club, the pioneer of our district has been chosen. We honor all the charter members and give credit and acclaim to their splendid work."

Mrs. Gesling's Jubilee address had for its subject, "What You Mean to the Southeast District". In opening she said, "Women's clubs are an American institution, beginning with the first settlers who grouped for welfare purposes." In reviewing what the Circleville Monday Club means both to the city and to the district, Mrs. Gesling stated "Your Monday Club justifies its existence by providing cultural activities for the women of the community. It instills high principles and ideals in the minds and hearts of its members in order that they may serve a worthy purpose in society."

Briefly she reviewed the aims and accomplishments of the club, and said in closing, "You celebrate, on your fiftieth anniversary, the achievements of a glorious past but consecrate yourselves to a large future of outstanding service."

Mrs. Arnold Jenkinson, also of Lancaster, president of the city Federation of Women's Clubs, was another honored guest at the meeting.

Preceding the program, the business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Ray Davis, president.

Miss Nell Weldon, program chairman of 1940-1941, gave a general outline of the next season's program. The subject is "Meeting a Changing World". Year programs were distributed to the members.

Annual reports were given by Mrs. John Eshelman, corresponding secretary; Miss Alice A. May, treasurer; Mrs. Sterling Lamb, recording secretary; and Mrs. Davis, president.

Mrs. Tom Renick presented the program of the evening. Mrs. Henry Lewis, president-elect, gave an interesting report of the state convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs at Canton, which she attended as delegate. She stated that the main thought of the convention was "Conservation" and the keynote "Successful Living Together". In her discussion of the many talks and programs, she brought out the fact that "youth and the changing world" were stressed in nearly every instance.

Mrs. Clark Will showed amateur motion pictures of the Golden Jubilee celebration. The pictures, which were in color, included those of members of the Jubilee committee, the birthday cake, the speakers' table, and the program members and their costumes.

Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Lewis entertained the group at an informal tea following the program hour. The members gathered around the tea table of attractive appointments set in the choir room. Mrs. C. E. Groce and Miss Weldon presided at the silver coffee and tea services. A large bowl of Japonica candles centered the table.

Obituary

There is a time when the all wise seems to say stand still and know that I am God.

Emma Jane, eldest daughter of David and Sophia (Johnson) Newlon, was born in Morgan County, Ohio, March 8, 1858 and departed this life to be at home with God on April 26, 1940 at the age of 82 years, one month and 18 days. On January 3, 1878 she was united in marriage to John W. Anderson, together they have journeyed life's path way for 61 years and mother is the first to answer the call. Early in life she became a Christian and was a faithful and devoted worker in the church always ready and willing to do all she could toward her church, the Morris L. B., as long as her health permitted.

Besides her aged companion she leaves the following children, John and Lewis of Columbus; Harry of Dayton; Joseph, Alva and Howard of Pickaway Township; Shirley of Williamsport and Mrs. Loren Spencer of Coaling, Ohio who with 32 grandchildren; 21 great grandchildren, four sisters and a host of relatives and friends are left to mourn her passing.

Mother was tired and weary. Dear wrinkled hands are so still; Put by her glasses and rocker, She will not need them again. Into Heaven's mansion she's entered, And no more will we see her.

Never to sigh or to weep, After long years of struggle, Mother has fallen asleep. Rest the tired feet now forever, Dear wrinkled hands are so still; Blasts of the earth shall no longer. Throw over our loved one a chill, Angels through Heaven will guide her, Jesus will still bless and keep; Not for the world would we wake her, Mother has fallen asleep.

Not More Than 15, And Probably 11, To Enter Saturday's Derby Test

By Clyde L. Reece

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30—Eleven horses, and at the outside not more than 15, will go to the post Saturday in the $75,000 added Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

In the probable field will be Bimelech, Mioland, Pictor, Dit, Gallahadio, Inscold, Roman, Sirocco, Royal Man, and the entry of Gallant Dream and Sky Dog.

The possible group includes Connaught, Black Brummel, Potranco, and Tough Hombre.

There may be others in the "dark horse" group, but if there are they probably will supplant some who will fall by the wayside in today's derby trial at a mile for $2,500, keeping the figure, at the outside, at 15, and likely less.

Of the probable group, Bimelech, Mioland and Pictor were pictured as the three to beat, in a consensus of trackmen. And of the three, Bimelech is given the best chance because of his six victories in six starts as a two-year-old and his loping victory over Roman in his debut this year in the Bluegrass Stakes at Keeneland last Thursday.

Pictor is liked because of his slashing Chesapeake Stakes victory, and Mioland because of his Capistrano triumph at Santa Anita. Dit, though rated as a horse of watch, commanded no special attention despite his win in the Wood Memorial.

Woolfe Has Starter

Inscold is regarded as a certain starter for H. M. Woolfe, whose Lawrin won the 1938 derby. It was up to Inscold to carry on for Prompt Pap, who went lame; Quenemo, who was sent back to the Missouri farm, and for Inscold, a filly who probably will be savor for the Kentucky Oaks, a female feature following the Derby.

Gallahadio was the pick of Mrs. Ethel V. Mars, and there was a chance her Tough Hombre might go. She entered five horses originally.

Roman was considered ready, win, lose or draw, because he won his debut at Keeneland, ran second to "Bib Bib" in the Bluegrass Stakes, and is carrying the torch for Joseph E. Widener.

Potranco, from the Lexbrook Stables, was a good, solid, horse to consider. He opened the winter boxes among the top favorites, having won six, placed twice, and showed once in 12 starts last year.

Sirocco and Black Brummel made fair showings at Keeneland, and Royal Man won in the East where Carrier Pigeon, Andy K and Fenelon, once rated as top notches, couldn't make the grade.

Bimelech was picked for victory in today's trial. He will oppose Endy, Inscold, Gallahadio, Royal Man, Connaught, Black Brummel, True Star Sirocco and the entry of Potranco and Designer. A threat of rain disappeared during the night assuring a clean strip for the field.

RED BIRDS LOSE AGAIN IN TENTH TO MINNEAPOLIS

COLUMBUS, April 30—A tenning, 5 to 4 win over the cellar-dwelling Columbus Red Birds today enabled the Minneapolis Millers to maintain a two-game lead over the second-place Indianapolis squad, which turned back Kansas City, 7 to 6, with a three-run spurge in the ninth to displace the Blues in the second slot.

A four-run spree in the top-half of the third won the bell-game for the Millers. Columbus shoved over tallies in the fifth an sixth, and added two in the ninth to tie up the game, but the Millers won in the extra stanza. The Red Birds outhit the winners, 11 to 9.

Indianapolis blew a 3 to 1 lead at the end of the second to enter the final canto on the short end of a 6 to 4 count. A two-run homer by Catcher Dick West tied the score before Johnny Pasek's pinch single drove in the winning run. Indianapolis had 14 safe bingles, the visitors eight.

Louisville made 13 hits good for ten runs to mark up an easy 10 to 3 win over Milwaukee. George Lacey, catcher obtained from the Boston Red Sox, made an auspicious American Association debut by lacing out three hits, including a homer, in four trips to the plate. Four errors, equally divided, marred the game.

In an abbreviated contest called in the sixth to enable St. Paul to catch a train, Toledo thumped the Saints, 6 to 1. George Gill, making his first start, scattered the five hits he granted the Saints. He was aided by three twin-killings.

BIMELECH GETS TEST OVER MILE AT DERBY DOWNS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30—If there is anything that can be offered in rebuttal to all the available evidence presented by the hard boots that Bimelech will be first to the wire in the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday, it will come this afternoon when the sensational son of Black Toney and La Toienne will meet the challenge of a brace of Derby hopefuls in the one-mile trial. If he puts daylight between him and the field as he passes the wire, it will be high time for concession of a fifty Derby win for Col. Ed Bradley, master of Idle Hour Farm in the Blue Grass.

Of course there is a lot of difference between a mile and a mile and a quarter. There have been many horses that could win at a mile and be beaten badly at the greater distance. Specifically, King Saxon and a long list of others have been that type. But if Bimelech can beat them as badly Saturday as he is expected to, he should be able to prove it in this test. He seems to have a lot of early speed for a distance horse and in his seven races to date he hasn't had any trouble taking command before the mile post.

THE HEROES AND GOATS

HEROES—Pepper Martin, whose pinch single gave the St. Louis Cardinals a tenth-inning victory over the Chicago Cubs; Bill Werber, whose homer enabled the Cincinnati Reds to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates.

GOATS—Bobby Feller, Cleveland pitcher, who issued three walks and hit a batsman to force in the winning run as Detroit beat the Indians; Max Butcher, Pittsburgh hurler, who threw two home run pitches as Cincinnati beat the Pirates.

WERBER'S HIT WINS

Pepper Produces Punch To

By ED KIELY

NEW YORK, April 30 — Baseball's first crucial series was scheduled to begin in Cincinnati today with the Brooklyn Dodgers stacking their eight-game winning streak against the first-class pitching of the Reds, who sport a record of six wins against two losses.

Three games with the Rhinelanders are expected to provide the first real test for the only undefeated team in the majors, who chalked up all their victories against the weakest opposition in the National League—the eastern clubs.

In winning from their "weak" sister, however, the Dodgers played heads-up baseball and nothing can be said to add or detract from their sensational record.

Yesterday the Reds warmed up for the series by whipping the Pittsburgh Pirates for the third straight time. Paul Derringer, aided by Harry Craft and Bill Werber, who clouted homers, came out on top in a pitching duel with Max Butcher. The score was 3 to 2. Meantime, Brooklyn and Philadelphia were traveling and did not play.

In the only other game in the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals nosed out the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 5, in a ten-inning fracas. Joe Medwick's double and Pepper Martin's pinch single in the extra frame provided the winning margin. Dizzy Dean, who started the game for the Cubs, was chased in the fifth, and Relief Hurler Ken Raffensberger was charged with the loss.

In the American League, Boston moved into a first-place tie with the Cleveland Indians, the Sox trounced the Philadelphia Athletics, 11 to 3, while Detroit was beating Cleveland, 4 to 3.

Boston clouted a trio of Athletic pitchers for 19-innings, including a homer by Jim Tabor, his second

Obituary

There is a time when the all wise seem to stand still and know that I am God.
Emma Jane, eldest daughter of David and Sophia (Johnson) Newlin, was born in Morgan County, Ohio, March 8, 1858 and departed this life to be at home with God on April 25, 1940 at the age of 82 years, one month and 18 days. On January 3, 1879 she was united in marriage to John W. Anderson, together they have journeyed life's path way for 61 years and mother is the first to answer the call.
Early in life she became a Christian and was a faithful and devoted worker in the church always ready and willing to do all she could toward her church, the Morris L. B. as long as her health permitted.
Besides her aged companion she leaves the following children, John and Lewis (deceased), Harry, Dayton; Joseph, Alva and Howard of Pickaway Township; Shirley of Williamsport and Mrs. Loren Spencer of Coaling, Ohio who with 13 grandchildren; 21 great grandchildren, four sisters and a host of relatives and friends are left to mourn her passing.
Mother was tired and weary, weary with toil and with pain; Put by her glasses and rocker, She will not need them again, Into Heaven's mansion she's entered.
Never to sigh or to weep, After long years of struggle, Mother has fallen asleep.
Rest the tired feet now forever, Dear wrinkled face is at still; Blasts of the earth shall no longer, Throw over our loved one a chill, Angels through Heaven will guide her, Jesus will still bless and keep; Not for the world would we wake her, Mother has fallen asleep.

Not More Than 15, And Probably 11, To Enter Saturday's Derby Test

By Clyde L. Reece

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30—Eleven horses, and at the outside not more than 15, will go to the post Saturday in the $75,000 added Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

In the probable field will be Bimelech, Mioland, Pictor, Dit, Gallahadon, Inscold, Roman, Sirocco, Royal Man, and the entry of Gallant Dream and Sky Dog.

The possible group includes Connaught, Black Brummel, Potranco, and Tough Hombre.

There may be others in the "dark horse" group, but if there are they probably will supplant some who will fall by the wayside in today's derby trial at a mile for $2,500, keeping the figure, at the outside, at 15, and likely less.

Of the probable group, Bimelech, Mioland and Pictor were pictured as the three to beat, in a consensus of trackmen. And of the three, Bimelech is given the best chance because of his six victories in six starts as a two-year-old and his loping victory over Roman in his debut this year in the Bluegrass Stakes at Keeneland last Thursday.

Pictor is liked because of his slashing Chesapeake Stakes victory, and Mioland because of his Capistrano triumph at Santa Anita. Dit, though rated as a horse of watch, commanded no special attention despite his win in the Wood Memorial.

Woolfe Has Starter

Inscold is regarded as a certain starter for H. M. Woolfe, whose Lawrin won the 1938 derby. It was up to Inscold to carry on for Prompt Pap, who went lame; Quenemo, who was sent back to the Missouri farm, and for Inscold, a filly who probably will be favored for the Kentucky Oaks, a female feature following the Derby.

Gallahadon was the pick of Mrs. Ethel W. Mars, and there was a chance her Tough Hombre might go. She entered five horses originally.

Roman was considered ready, win, lose or draw, because he won his debut at Keeneland, ran second to "Bib Bib" in the Bluegrass Stakes, and is carrying the torch for Joseph E. Widener.

Potranco, from the Lexbrook Stables, was a good, solid horse, to consider. He opened the winter books among the top favorites, having won six, placed twice, and showed once in 12 starts last year.

Sirocco and Black Brummel made fair showings at Keeneland, and Royal Man won in the East where Carrier Pigeon, Andy K and Fenelon, once rated as top notchers, couldn't make the grade.

Bimelech was picked for victory in today's trial. He will oppose Endy, Inscold, Gallahadon, Royal Man, Connaught, Black Brummel, True Star Sirocco and the entry of Potranco and Designer. A threat of rain disappeared during the night assuring a clean strip for the field.

RED BIRDS LOSE AGAIN IN TENTH TO MINNEAPOLIS

COLUMBUS, April 30—A ten-inning, 5 to 4 win over the cellar-dwelling Columbus Red Birds today enabled the Minneapolis Millers to maintain a two-game lead over the second-place Indianapolis squad, which turned back Kansas City, 7 to 6, with a three-run spurge in the ninth to displace the Blues in the second slot.

A four-run spree in the top-half of the third won the bell-game for the Millers. Columbus shoved over tallies in the fifth and sixth, and added two in the ninth to tie up the game, but the Millers won in the extra stanza. The Red Birds outbait the winners, 11 to 9. Indianapolis blew a 3 to 1 lead at the end of the second to enter the final canto on the short end of a 6 to 4 count. A two-run homer by Catcher Dick West tied the score before Johnny Pasek's pinch single drove in the winning run. Indianapolis had 14 safe bingles, the visitors eight.

Louisville made 13 hits good for ten runs to mark up an easy 10 to 3 win over Milwaukee. George Lacey, catcher obtained from the Boston Red Sox, made an auspicious American Association debut by lacing out three hits, including a homer, in four trips to the plate. Four errors, equally divided, marred the game.

In an abbreviated contest called in the sixth to enable St. Paul to catch a train, Toledo thumped the Saints, 6 to 1. George Gill, making his first start, scattered the five hits he granted the Saints. He was aided by three twin-killings.

BIMELECH GETS TEST OVER MILE AT DERBY DOWNS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30—If there is anything that can be offered in rebuttal to all the available evidence presented by the hard boots that Bimelech will be first to the wire in the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday, it will come this afternoon when the sensational son of Black Toney and La Tolenne will meet the challenge of a brace of Derby hopefuls in the one-mile trial.

If he puts daylight between him and the field as he passes the wire, it will be high time for concession of a fifty Derby win for Col. Ed Bradley, master of Idle Hour Farm in the Blue Grass.

Of course there is a lot of difference between a mile and a mile and a quarter. There have been many horses that could win at a mile and be beaten badly at the greater distance. Specify, King Saxon and a long list of others have been that type. But if Bimelech can beat them as badly Saturday as he is expected to, he should be able to prove it in this test. He seems to have a lot of early speed for a distance horse and in his seven races to date he hasn't had any trouble taking command before the mile post.

THE HEROES AND GOATS

HEROES—Pepper Martin, whose pinch single gave the St. Louis Cardinals a tenth-inning victory over the Chicago Cubs; Bill Werber, whose homer enabled the Cincinnati Reds to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates.

GOATS—Bobby Feller, Cleveland pitcher, who issued three walks and hit a batsman to force in the winning run as Detroit beat the Indians; Max Butcher, Pittsburgh hurler, who threw two home run pitches as Cincinnati beat the Pirates.

WERBER'S HIT WINS

Pepper Produces Punch To

By ED KIELY

NEW YORK, April 30—Baseball's first crucial series was scheduled to begin in Cincinnati today with the Brooklyn Dodgers stacking their eight-game winning streak against the first-class pitching of the Reds, who sport a record of six wins against two losses.

Three games with the Rhinelanders are expected to provide the first real test for the only undefeated team in the majors, who chalked up all their victories against the weakest opposition in the National League—the eastern clubs.

In winning from their "weak" sister, however, the Dodgers played heads-up baseball and nothing can be said to add or detract from their sensational record.

Yesterday the Reds warmed up for the series by whipping the Pittsburgh Pirates for the third straight time. Paul Derringer, aided by Harry Craft and Bill Werber, who clouted homers, came out on top in a pitching duel with Max Butcher. The score was 3 to 2. Meantime, Brooklyn and Philadelphia were traveling and did not play.

In the only other game in the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals nosed out the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 5, in a ten-inning fracas. Joe Medwick's double and Pepper Martin's pinch single in the extra frame provided the winning margin. Dizzy Dean, who started the game for the Cubs, was chased in the fifth, and Relief Hurler Ken Raffensberger was charged with the loss.

In the American League, Boston moved into a first-place tie with the Cleveland Indians, the Sox trounced the Philadelphia Athletics, 11 to 3, while Detroit was beating Cleveland, 4 to 3.

Boston clouted a trio of Athletic pitchers for 19-hits, including a homer by Jim Tabor, his second in as many days. In Detroit, Bobby Feller, Cleveland's ace, lost his control in the eighth inning, issuing three walks and hitting a batsman to force home the winning run.

Dr. Otto Mees, widely known president of Capital University, Columbus, will address the Circleville High School graduating class at commencement exercises scheduled for Monday, June 3.

Acceptance of the school's invitation by Dr. Mees was announced Tuesday by J. Wray Henry, high school principal. Dr. Mees is rated as one of Ohio's outstanding educators.

Principal Henry said Tuesday that the graduating class will probably consist of 85 boys and girls, the list of students to be graduated not yet being available. Mr. Henry said that several are still "on the fence." The list will not be disclosed until the graduates are definitely known, he said.

Benny on Ripley Program

Jack Benny, radio's top comedian, takes the spotlight on Bob Ripley's CBS "Believe It Or Not" program on Friday, May 3, at 10:30 p. m. The program will emanate from Ripley's fabulous Odditorium on Broadway, with Jack exchanging banter with Ripley. Ripley's glittering array of oddities, both living and inanimate, mementoes of his thirty years of travel to far-off places, undoubtedly will offer targets for Jack's trigger wit.

The broadcast will also be dedicated to the New York World's Fair, where Ripley opens another of his Odditoriums on May 12. Harvey D. Gibson, chairman of the board of the World's Fair will tell incredible facts about the exposition.

About two weeks ago, Ripley received a strange package in the mails. It was the mummified hand of an Egyptian princess. The sinister history of this hand, which Egyptologists lost track of 52 years ago, will provide authenticated facts for the thrilling "Believe It Or Not" dramatization.

The musical portion of the program will be under the direction of E. A. Rolfe, with vocals by Linda Lee.

WALTERS' CAR CATCHES FIRE

Township Truck Called; Horn Sounds, Wakens Sleeping Residents

The Township fire truck was called to the home of John E. Walters on Route 22, Circleville Township, at 2:30 a. m. Tuesday when Walters' car caught fire in the garage. The automobile was badly burned, but little damage was done to the garage.

Mr. Walters said he would not have discovered the fire in his automobile had members of the family not heard the horn, which he said blew for 15 or 20 minutes. Firemen believed a short in the horn wiring had caused the fire.

Gentlemen:

We submit herewith a detailed report of the mileage tests conducted on "Nu-Blue Sunoco" in comparison with fourteen premium-priced gasolines. All gasolines for test were purchased by us at regular retail service stations in Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland and Detroit.

These tests were made under similar conditions of load at engine speeds corresponding to 30, 40 and 70 miles per hour. The average miles per gallon obtained for "Nu-Blue Sunoco" at these three speeds and loads was not exceeded by any of the premium-priced gasolines tested.

As verified by the attached report, test conditions were such that all gasolines were handled and tested impartially.

UNSURPASSED in mileage in scientific tests against 14 leading extra priced gasolines

These tests, completed March 27, 1940, by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory, were made to cover different driving speeds: low, medium and high. Regardless of speed, Nu-Blue Sunoco was unsurpassed in miles per gallon, and since it sells at regular gas price, Nu-Blue Sunoco gave more miles per dollar.

To make a fair test, don't dilute Nu-Blue Sunoco with other gasoline. Instead—for best results—let your tank run practically empty. Then put in Nu-Blue Sunoco. Compare it against any gasoline at any price, and particularly against extra priced fuels. ... We'll rest our case on your findings.

Benny on Ripley Program

Jack Benny, radio's top comedian, takes the spotlight on Bob Ripley's CBS "Believe It Or Not" program on Friday, May 3, at 10:30 p. m. The program will emanate from Ripley's fabulous Odontorium on Broadway, with Jack exchanging banter with Ripley. Ripley's glittering array of oddities, both living and inanimate, mementoes of his thirty years of travel to far-off places, undoubtedly will offer targets for Jack's trigger wit.

The broadcast will also be dedicated to the New York World's Fair, where Ripley opens another of his Odditoriums on May 12. Harvey D. Gibson, chairman of the board of the World's Fair will tell incredible facts about the exposition.

About two weeks ago, Ripley received a strange package in the mails. It was the mummified hand of an Egyptian princess. The sinister history of this hand, which Egyptologists lost track of 52 years ago, will provide authenticated facts for the thrilling "Believe It Or Not" dramatization.

The musical portion of the program will be under the direction of B. A. Rolfe, with vocals by Linda Lee.
